

MISSOURI BIRD RECORDS COMMITTEE

TOP TEN SPECIES FOR 2000

- 1) DARK-EYED GRAY-HEADED JUNCO (Junco hyemalis caniceps): one, 6 December, 2000, to April, 2001, Polk Co. Cathie Foster (including photographs). First documented and accepted record of this Rocky Mountain subspecies, which is likely to be given full species status eventually.

- 2) GYRFALCON (Falco rusticolus): immature female, 22 November, Holt Co. Found and documented by David Scarbrough (including photographs); also photographed by David Easterla (see his article in The Bluebird, June, 2001). Actually the fourth Missouri record, but the first to meet all criteria for an official first state record.

- 3) ROSEATE SPOONBILL (Ajaia ajaja): one, first observed 17 July, Ray County. First observed by Heather Lambert-Doherty; documented by Steve Kinder (including photographs) and Paul McKenzie. Third state record.

- 4) SNOWY PLOVER (Charadrius alexandrinus): one, 22-23 April, Little Creve Coeur Lake, St. Louis Co. Michael Thelen; also documented by Jim Malone (including photographs) and Paul Johnson (including photographs). First record for eastern corridor of counties in Missouri.

- 5) LITTLE GULL (Larus minutus): Two juveniles, 29 September into October, Riverlands Environmental Demonstration Area, St. Charles Co. One first observed by David Becher; one documented by Bill Rowe and both by Edge Wade; one also videotaped by Jim Ziebol. The two birds were seen both separately and together at one time or another. Collectively, they are the ninth state record.

- 6) WHITE-WINGED DOVE (Zenaida asiatica): One, 10-12 August, Boone Co. John Schulz (including photographs). Tenth state record.

- 7) RED-SHOULDERED HAWK (Buteo lineatus): Two adults and two juveniles, 30 June and 5 July, Atchison Co. David Easterla (documentation), Jack Hilsabeck. First breeding record in 30 years for northwest Missouri, where very rare. See article by Easterla in The Bluebird, September 2000.

- 8) SABINE'S GULL (Xema sabini): Several birds, 24 September to mid-October, Riverlands, St. Charles Co. First observed by Jeff Lundt (2); documented by Bill Rowe, Mike Thelen, and Edge Wade. In various combinations, a minimum of four birds (three juveniles and one adult) were seen during this period, and possibly more. Collectively, about the tenth state record.

- 9) AMERICAN BITTERN (Botaurus lentiginosus): One, 13 February, Eagle Bluffs Conservation Area, Boone Co. Sandra Elbert, Bonnie Heidy, Susan Hazelwood, Jean Leonatti, et al. Accidental in winter.

10) WHITE IBIS (Eudocimus albus): One immature, 24 May, Mingo National Wildlife Refuge, Stoddard Co. Bill Eddleman. Fifteenth state record.
